CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

INFRINGES PERSONAL LIBERTY.

One of the chief objections to the proposed universal eight-hour law is the fact that it is an infringment on the personal liberty of the individual. That men have a moral right to decline to labor for more than eight hours in any one day no one can question, in fact under ordinary circumstances no man can be expected to give his employer the best of his services if required to coutinue work for a longer period. The man who works faithfully for eight hours has reached the limit of ordinary physical endurance and to habitually continue longer must weaken his earning power, both for himself and his employer.

At the same time contingencies often arise when business exigencies call for extra exertion and for which the employer is not only justified but willing to offer additional compensation. When these occasions occur, why should not the employee be permitted to exercise his free will and, should he so desire, be privileged to earn an extra compensation which at times may prove a welcome addition to the regular income. To deny them this privilege is to curtail their liberty and deprive them of the right of exercise of individual judgment. In the long run, a limitation such as is proposed in this law will prove more of an injury to the employee than to the employer.

EGG IMPORTERS HAPPY.

The egg business in China has taken on such activity uuder the Democratic tariff law that United States Consuls are making reports on it to the United States Government. Albert W. Pontius, American Consul at Nanking, reports officially that a big egg factory at Nanking is about to be completed so as to begin operations this year. He says that Chinese eggs are either sold in open market or collected by interior agents and delivered to the factory or to the exporter.

The important egg producing district of China, he reports, comprises the Yellow River and the Yangtze River Provinces and that season of greatest is from February to May. He says there is a local desiccated egg factory at Nanking which purchases eggs much below the market price. He says this factory paid from eight to ten cents a dozen last October.

For local shipping, Mr. Pontiss reports that eggs are packed in bamboo crates with saw-dust or straw. He says they are canned at Nanking and Hankow by a foreign corporation and shipped to Europe. He says he is informed that all grades of eggs and all kinds of domesticated fowls are used for this purpose. Refrigeration service, he says, can be obtained from China to the United States. The Hankow factory mentioned above keeps in operation through the year by handling game, poultry, feathers, beans and skins.

The American Consul reports that workmen in these egg factories receive about ten cents a day, thus making it clear how the Chinese are able to ship eggs to America and compete with American farmers.

Boys Win Another Game.

Last Sunday morning the Boys' Club, by a ninth inning rally, put three runs over and won from he Potrero team by an 8 to 7 score. Winkler, Winter and Hallett each secured two hits out of four times up. Zimmerman, also for the Boys' Club, secured three out of five. Next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, the fast North Beach Federals will be down. The visitors have won fifteen games and will use Commezzi and Ritchie, their star battery, against our boys who will put out their best players to bring home the game. Be on hand to help out the local talent.

Prepare for County Exhibit.

The Panama-Pacific Exposition Commission was in session in the courthouse all of Thursday, discussing plans for the San Mateo county exhibit at the coming exposition. The floral exhibit proposed by the commission is to be one of the finest ever seen in the country. In a short time the commission will let contracts for the growing of flowers for the display next year. It is just possible the commission may arrange to raise some varities independent of the growers. The members of the commission are working diligently to make a good showing at the fair an deserve the thanks of the people of the county for their efforts. They work without compensation.

Chase Littlejohn has returned from Eagle Lake where he went in the interest of the Smithonian institute at Washington. He says that body of water surpasses Lak Tahoe in beauty and grandeur and will some day become a popular summer resort. It lies near the foot of Mount Lassen, whose eruptions have caused world-wide interest, and is a very large body of water. Mount Lassen was not active when Mr. Littlejohn left but became so shortly after he had departed.

Come in and see us about that camera, We can suit you, and prices are right. A. D. Walsh Co., Pioneer Drug Store.

Local Celebration for Fourth.

Redwood City will not be totally without its celebration on the coming Fourth. A grand ball is usually the biggest and most generally enjoyed of the amusements at all celebrations and as we will have our grand ball on the eve of the Fourth, when the Harmony Club, a set of young men who are held in high esteem, will entertain at their all night ball; those not caring for the usual proceedings of a celebration of the Fourth of July, may stay in Redwood and celebrate in a quiet and sane way at the club's ball.

The club assures its guests a fine time, not to be marred by the slightest provocation; but what promises to bring the biggest crowd of dancers, and spectators, is the grand prize waltz contest which will be the feature of the evening. Four silver cups, now on display in Knox's Toggery, are to be the trophies. The last contest of this kind held in Redwood proved to be a great success and it is hoped that in the coming contest, that the first and possibly the second prize will be awarded to couples of our own home town.

The club has advertised its ball widely, from one end of the county to the other. The hall will be kept cool by electric fans, and dancers refreshed by punchfrom the concessioner.

It is hoped that the club will be rewarded in their efforts by a large crowd as they have worked diligently on this affair, and from every indication, at this time, the grand ball will be a social success.

Phelps Estate Finally Settled.

The Supreme Court on Monday sustained a decision by Superior Judge Graham handed down a year ago in which it was held that the collateral heirs of the late Congressman Timothy Gup Phelps, had waited too long before seeking redress for the frauds which they alleged Josephine A. Phelps, widow of the Congressman, had perpetrated upon them.

Phelps left an estate valued at $2,000,000 most of which consisted of San Mateo county real estate. The larger portion of this was bequeathed to the widow and the remainder to sisters and brothers, nieces and nephews living in eastern states.

These heirs sued two years ago to have their share of the property which they had sold to Mrs. Phelps declared a trust, held for their benefit. They alleged that she represented to them that the property was practically valueless, and they sold it to her for $20,000 only to learn later that it was in reality valued at more than $1,000,000.

The Supreme Court held as had Judge Graham, that as the heirs had slept upon their rights for seven years before appealing to the courts the case had become "stale."

The Supreme Court also sustained the decision of Judge Buck of this county handed down about a year ago quieting title to the Phelps property in this county to Mrs. Phelps against the Daughaday heirs. The suit was begun by Mrs. Phelps against J. H. Grady, representing the Daughaday heirs, in 1913. Ross & Ross appeared as the attorneys for Mrs. Phelps in both suits and argued the cases in the Supreme Court. The decisions will end the litigation that has arisen from time to time during the past ten years in the Phelps estate.

DI GRAZIA ACQUITTED OF MURDER ACCUSATION.

Guiseppe Di Grazia, accused of having shot and killed Alfredo Rovari, the foreman of the Schubert ranch at Halfmoon Bay two months ago, was promptly acquitted by a jury in the Superior Court late yesterday afternoon.

The slaying resulted from a quarrel between Di Grazia and the foreman over a request by the former to be allowed to get a one-day leave of absence for two of the ranch hands. Rovari refused the request, they quarreled, and finally the foreman was shot and killed.

The jury was out ten minutes. There were no witnesses to the shooting and it could not be shown that Di Grabia premeditated crime. He claimed to have acted in self defense, believing that his life was in danger.

There were three women on the jury: Mrs. Ethel C. Britton of South San Francisco, Mrs. Virginia M. Pohl of Burlingame, and Mrs. Harriet C. Haydock of San Carlos.

This is the first case in the history of the world that women have sat in murder trials. The ladies acquitted themselves well, having patiently listened to the mass of evidence and lengthy arguments of the respective counsel and assisted in rendering a popular verdict. The three women were for acquittal on the first ballot.

Lawyers Will Rusticate.

On the first of the month the wheels of Justice will stop for a brief period, for during the month of July no contested cases will be heard by Judge Buck. GRAMMAR-SCHOOL GRADUATION

The graduation exercises of the grammar school which were held at the Alhambra Friday night last drew a large attendance of parents and friends. District Attorney Franklin Swart addressed the graduates who occupied the front row of seats. Mr. Swart's remarks were suited to the occasion. His words of advice were such as would appeal to boys and girls of the age of the graduates whose characters are in the moulding period of life. They were listened to attentively and no doubt made a deep impression. Mr. Swart has a fondness for the young people that is close to an affection which was shown in the sincerity of his address. The event, he said, was to him a source of pleasant recollection, as it recalled not only his own graduation days but it brought back to him the graduations over which he had presided during his career as a teacher. One of the pleasures of his life since was to keep in touch with his boys and girls and to give them advice and help and now that they had grown up and gone out into the world he felt a pride in the knowledge that none had gone wrong. He illustrated his talk by reference to a joke that had been played on him by an artist friend who so skillfully manipulated the picture on one of his placards as to make him look like a tramp. At the cross roads of life it is possible for a boy or a girl to select such a career as would lead to honor or disgrace. The speaker might have, had he chosen, traversed those parts of dalliance that would have brought him to the wretched extreme pictured by the artist. He chose, however, the road that leads to a respectful life and he admonished his hearers to be sure that they are not starting on the wrong career. To make more impressive his talk to the graduates, Mr. Swart recalled incidents in his experience as a prosecutor where young lives had been blasted on account of failure to live in a cleanly way and to keep away from the pitfalls of vice that beset the youth of both sex.

Henry Steinberger, the clerk of the board of trustees, made a short appropriate address and gave out the diplomas.

The exercises were preceded by the cantata, "In Quest of Truth," by the pupils of the grammar school.

Notre Dame Pupils Graduate.

The pupils of Notre Dame academy gave one of the prettiest entertainments at the Alhambra Friday evening that the public of this city has seen since the last entertainment given by that school a year ago. Their training was so thorough that without the guidance of their instructors the boys and girls went through their parts in a long and difficult program with no hesitation or stumbling and almost with the ease and elegance of artists. Solos, choruses, recitations, tableaux, drills and graceful dances followed in close succession, so ably presented that the large audience was keyed to a high pitch of delight and often gave vent to its feelings in generous applause.

The hall was gracefully decorated in streamers of white and green, while palms, ferns, and greenery backed the stage and formed a background for the white-robed girlish figures who carried out the excellent program without a flaw, reflecting much credit upon themselves and the Sisters who trained them.

The program opened with the greeting, "The Day Has Come," showed good training. The voices were clear and true and bid fair to develop into greater beauty with further cultivation.

"The Doll House, sung by the little tots was remarkably well done for the babes of the primary class.

"The Seasons," a most beautiful symbolical presentation, followed, portraying by flowers, fruit and graceful figures, the changing mood of each season. The dancing of Pearl Wallace, Lena Baskette and Viola Curran being a decided novelty. Their grace of movement throughout was faultless. A feature of this number which brought down the house was the pretty hymn to California and an invitation to the great 1915 exposition.

The harmonious rythmic movements in the scarf fantastics greatly pleased the audience, particularly the easy transition of the three triangles into the ladder, and forming the letters of "N. D. A."

The gestures and poses in the rendition of the musical recitation, "At the Golden Gate," were a perfect interpretation of the lofty inspiration of the distinguished poet, Father Ryan. The tableax were in keeping with the beautiful significance of the poem.

The difficult "Scene in the Forum," Julius Ceasar, was remarkably rendered by fourteen sturdy lads of the grammar grades, who carried out their parts, some of which were quite lengthy, without mistake.

"My Mother's Beads," the beautiful poem written by Charles Phillips, editor of the Monitor, was feelingly recited by Miss Adeline Simmons who showed ability beyond the ordinary in elocution. Closely following this number was the tableau, "The Rosary," accompanied by that sweetest of songs of the same title.

The following graduates were given their diplomas:

Commercial course—Mary Agnes Carmody, Adeline Claire Simmons, Alice Emma Twombly, Florence Einstein, Frances Johnson.

Eighth grade—Genevieve Costello, Anita Cussen, Martha Kerr, Veronica McGlynn, Louise Neillo.

Medals, the gifts of Rev. Father Sullivan, were awarded as follows:

Christian Doctrine—Gold medal drawn by Mary Sheehan; merited by Veronica McGlynn, Genevieve Costello, Louise Neillo, Mona Walsh, Lauretta Costello, Marguerite Cussen; second gold medal drawn by Nance Haynes; silver medal drawn by Margaret Sheerin; extra prizes awarded to Fancis O'Sullivan, Ward Hahir, Clarice Cullen.

Congregational Singing—Gold medal drawn by Gertrude Read.

Commercial Course—Gold medal for excellence awarded to Mary Carmody.

General Improvement in Music—Gold medals awarded to Mary Carmody, May Hynes, Helen Maloney; second gold medal drawn by Genevieve Costello; silver medal to Mary McConvey; premium drawn by Lena Baskette.

Class Pin awarded to William Elliott.

The cleanliness of Califene

In this age of sanitation, when foods of all kinds are sold in packages to insure cleanliness, you should be as particular about one thing as another.

CALIFENE goes to you, fresh from the government inspected factory in sealed tins which protect the contents from all odors, and the dust, to which all goods sold in bulk are exposed.

CALIFENE does the work of fresh butter, at a much lower cost. When you try CALIFENE you'll buy it and stay by it just as thousands of women do all over California.

Ask your grocer about the thousand dollar Cook Book, and how to get $5 for writing a recipe for it.

If, for any reason, you cannot secure the blanks, write to
